

The Triangular Cave

The Triangular Cave wish to be a serene haven where nature’s geometry converges in simplicity. Crafted from rammed earth, this triangular space invites contemplation and discovery.

The cave stands at a modest height of 2.1 meters. The side walls form a slender slit that allows soft light to permeate, revealing glimpses of the surrounding natural beauty. This unique viewing slot offers a fresh perspective, inviting visitors to reconnect with the garden’s existing environment.

Above, an earthen ceiling crowns the space, adorned with a central circular void. Sunlight streams through this opening, marking the passage of time and offering a captivating view of the sky from a new angle. It creates an almost theatrical ambiance, where visitors can freely immerse themselves in the surroundings. Ideally situated amidst towering trees and captivating landscapes, the cave harmonizes seamlessly with its surroundings. Visitors are invited to savor the existing natural environment from a fresh perspective, enveloped by the tranquillity of the trees and the ever-changing play of light and shadows.

The Triangular Cave invites you to step into a realm where simplicity and nature intertwine. Experience the serenity, embrace the perspective shift, and join us in celebrating the beauty of the garden while nurturing a sustainable future.

a) Ram Earth

b) Bluegrass

c) Yarrow

The Cave emerges within the existing landscapes. People enters the garden with walkable greyish bluegrass and yarrow that offers some white brushes. The cave is casted with rammed earth. It is known for its thermal properties and minimal environmental impact, build the entire structure that exemplifies the festival's commitment to the theme of Écologie des possibles.

As gentle raindrops descend from the celestial stage, they find solace within the circular void. The cave incorporates a discreet circular floor drain with a stainless steel grate, finished with subtle brass detailing. It serves as a subtle yet practical detail that enhances the overall design.

